Things that would make you successful weren't free; they required you to work hard for them. But they were worth the wait, because it would mean you'd gather more items over time, and then you could make your house bigger or better fortified. The game was about connecting with your friends, and making sure that they were safe and able to live their own lives in the Minecraft world as well.

I also remember back when Minecraft was first released, how difficult it was to find anyone who was willing to play with you or help you if your work didn't work out; but I did find my lovely wonderful best friend through Roblox and we play together every single day. Even though there is no one on my friends list, I can still go into Roblox and join a game with other people. When I do that, my friend will always join me if she's in the same room. But even so, I never have any actual friends in-game because it becomes a very lonely experience as time progresses.

ROBLOX has also been criticised for being very difficult to use and has many bugs within the site interface itself, problems which seem to go unresolved by the development team despite repeated complaints over a number of years. Although the website's interface is not difficult to use, it has become more complex over the years with features such as video editing with a dedicated program and large amounts of unnecessary superfluous features. Some of the features include: UIs for uploading and viewing custom models, importing music, applications, and sounds; importing sounds from WAV files; creating galleries; creating art sheets; creating an unlimited amount of variations for models by changing their scale and pose; adding animations to models (e.g. walking); creating global themes which change every time you go into a game or lobby; creating global music tracks in . ROBLOX's interface has also become extremely frustrating, with a lot of features being inaccessible and hidden because of the aforementioned complexity.

I love Roblox, but sometimes it's hard to keep the game up and you seem to be forced to buy certain games. I think there should be a better way of getting new people in the game and not having so many bad games out there. Everyone is trying to make money off of Roblox, which is good, but I just wish that they could make more updates for the games and keep them working properly.
